

Curriculum Vitae

Prof. Dr. med. Annette Grüters-Kieslich

Born in 1954

Education

1973 – 1980 Medical studies at the University of Bochum – Ruhr and at the Free University Berlin (FU)

1980 License certification

1982 Doctorate, PhD

Professional Positions

1980 – 1986 Scientific/research assistant at the Children's Clinic of the FU

1991 Habilitation (formal university academic appointment)

1986 – 1993 University assistant in the Children's Clinic of the FU

1992 – 1998 Physician-in-chief of the Children's Clinic of the Rudolf Virchow Clinic of the FU; from 1996: Physician-in-chief of the Children's Clinic of the Charité's University-Clinic of the Humboldt University-Berlin (HU)

1998 Appointment as C-3 Professor for Paediatric Endocrinology of the Medical Faculty of the HU

Since 1998 Director of the Outpatient Clinic and of the Paediatric Center for Chronically Ill Children of the Otto-Huebner Center for Children-Therapy and Youth Medicine of the Charité – Universitätsmedizin Berlin

Since 2003 Director of the Institute for Experimental Paediatric Endocrinology of the Medical Faculty – HU

2004 Appointment as C4-Professor for Paediatric Endocrinology of the Medical Faculty – HU

Since 2005 Medical Director of the Charité Center 17: Center for Women's-Children's-Youth Medicine (with perinatal-center and human genetics)
Spokesperson for the Otto-Huebner Center for Children's and Youth Medicine

Since 2008 Dean of the Charité-Universitätsmedizin Berlin

Contact Information

Prof. Dr. med. Annette Grüters-Kieslich

Dean

Charité – Universitätsmedizin Berlin

Charitéplatz 1

D - 10117 Berlin

Tel: +49 30 450 570 252

Fax: +49 30 450 570 952

E-Mail: v-dekan@charite.de