New Approaches to Cardiovascular Trials and Meta-Analyses

Prof. Tim Friede
Department of Medical Statistics
University Medical Center Göttingen

Clinical trials in cardiovascular diseases become increasingly expensive and difficult to conduct with a high risk of failure. In this presentation adaptive clinical trial designs will be discussed to deal with uncertainty in the planning and to gain efficiency. Also a flexible design for stratified medicine will be presented. Furthermore, new approaches to meta-analyses will be discussed using examples from cardiovascular medicine.

Wednesday, 25.01.2017
12:00 – 13:00h
Bibliothek at DHZB
Augustenburger Platz 1, Berlin